

IMPORTANT:

In the next section we shall learn how to link the product that you have created to the device. If you face any issue while performing this project, please check the slide after the next video which has the troubleshooting guide to most commonly faced issues.