

Controlling Devices Over the Internet > Controlling Devices over the Bolt

Assignment

Below is an assignment as part of the training. This assignment is for self-study and won't be counted for evaluation. Hence, you need not to submit the assignment. You can, however, document your answer in your personal notebook and save it for your future reference. There will be no submission of this assignment.

In the assignment for this section here are a few tasks which you should carry out to understand the graphing features in more depth.

Go to the progress tracker, and download the assignment pdf for module 2. The details of the assignment are mentioned in the PDF.